

I strongly and vehemently oppose the efforts of the FCC, a government agency, to decide what content I should be able to listen to on a Satellite radio. This is an invasion to my rights as a listener of this radio forum and a blatant attack on the First Amendment to the United States Constitution. Specifically, they would like to impose their limitations on my ability to get local information, including local traffic and weather information specific to my region. I understand the need for the local radio stations to have some "niche" in the industry that will keep them safe in this economy where satellite radio now is a competitor, but the truth is that there are many local stations in the country that offer this information periodically throughout the day, and not continuously like the XM Instant Traffic & Weather stations on XM-Radio do, for instance. This information is invaluable to me as a driver, an employee, and most importantly, as a taxpayer. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Keith Nicholls
